When the bodies of Mrs. Hummel and her two children were found beneath a straw pile in Black Hole Valley, on the night of December 23, the whereabouts of her third child was unknown. Since then the authorities have done everythis child. On Wednesday a letter was received in which the writer informed the authorities that the baby's body was buried in the horse stable near the Hummel house, and there they found it Thursday morning. The head of the child was crushed to fragments, as were the skulls of Mrs. Hummel and the other two children. The verdict of the coroner's jury named Hummel as the murderer. There is a report there that the letter which the authorities say imparted the information was a decoy letter, which when read to the prisoner caused him to confess.

[COMMUNICATED. WHO IS THE PREVARICATOR?

On day last week the senior member ISAAC to do some repairing in a residence on Royal street. He sent the junior member of the firm, who did the work. Being asked to make out his bill, he presented the same to the gentleman on Royal street, who considered the bill rather stiff for the amount of work done and material furnished, whereupon the junior member stated that he had informed the senior member of the firm, who made out the bill, that it was too high, and said he would send him up to correct the matter. When the latter appeared and was asked whether he had not made a mistake, he very in-nocently inquired what the junior member had charged, and when the infor-mation he pretended to be seeking was given he immediately remarked that the bill was unreasonable and that the other member of the firm had charged too much, and gladly made the desired reduction. Z.

[COMMUNICATED. Some months ago there was a great controversy in our city in regard to the quality of the gravel (?) that was being used on Commerce street. One committee on streets, and also an expert they brought here from abroad, pro-nounced it to be of the very best quality. Nevertheless, after it was foushed, they put a thin coating of good gravel on top of it. If any one who is interested in this matter will take the trouble to go up to that street, any day after a rain, and look at it, and then take a look at Payne street, between Commerce and Duke, he can easily form his own conclusion. If we have a wet winter with much freezing weather, what it will be in the early spring, after the ground thaws out, God only knows. The ruts in it were at least six inches deep yesterday morning.
